

League Adopts Three Point Plan to End War

CHINA IS FIRM IN REFUSAL TO ACCEPT PEACE

Conditions for Stop Fight Order Must Include Demands

By MORRIS J. HARRIS
Associated Press Staff Correspondent

SHANGHAI, March 11.—Chinese authorities were adamant today in their refusal to accept any peace demands which did not include an unconditional withdrawal of Japanese troops from Manchuria.

As a result, although both the Chinese and Japanese accepted the resolution of the League of Nations adopted March 4 calling toward a negotiated peace, no peace was in sight today.

The Chinese reiterated they were willing to negotiate, but insisted on any other basis than unconditional withdrawal of troops by the Japanese.

MUST GET TOLERANCE

Japan's diplomatic circles, although they said they were not only willing but anxious to have a conference with the Chinese, indicated it was imperative that the two sides get together in the development of the League's resolution.

A heavy delegation of Chinese officials, including the episcopal church property at Changsha, 30 miles north of Nanking, where 500 day-migrants have learned today.

All of the buildings on the property were destroyed by fire, except the clapping school which was abruptly closed by the Chinese after arriving.

18,000 CASUALTIES

Chinese military authorities said the total number of casualties in their recent operations against the Japanese from Feb. 20 and March 3 were at least 18,000. The greater portion of these were civilians.

Civilian casualties also were heavy, they said, within Chinghai, Kiangnan, Ningpo, Hangchow, and in many other smaller places along the coastline. These would also run into thousands, they said.

It was estimated that at least 500 Chinese had been killed in the Chinese hills carrying ammunition or digging trenches, etc.

The police statement over the signature of Col. H. Norman Schwartzkopf, who is in charge of the investigation in the official relations between the police and the newspapers.

REPORT OF PERSIAN

Some reporters from New York newspapers have felt they were not receiving full information on the situation as the international interest in the case waned.

In the United States, the police have been fearful that publicly unlesss carefully censored from official sources, the story might leak out concerning the return of the child now missing from his mother.

Col. Schwartzkopf, who has been captured by the questionnaire committee, has been asked to sign to the story shortly after midnight. Several of the questions called upon him to give his views on the case in answers noted in previous questions. He has agreed to do this by telegram, changing his answers in certain phases of the investigation.

BLOODGOOD QUESTION

One question asked what steps the police took to obtain bloodgood from the hospital where the baby was born. Police previously had explained that such steps were required.

This morning's question, however, stated that dog authorities had said the dog took to obtain bloodgood to police station, and that the police had been made available at 11 p.m. two hours after the kidnaping was reported.

Another question included the statement that reporters found some homes "within forty yards" walking distance of the Linbergh residence, and inquired why.

One reporter asked if the police had any information concerning the 14-day-old child, and the police declined to answer.

"Do the state police authorities feel complete satisfied that the child has not been abandoned in the area?" he asked. "And, if so, how do they arrive at that conclusion?"

Question No. 7 was:

ASK DEFINITE ANSWER

"Will you please give us a definite answer to the question whether the police have communicated or intended to communicate with the kidnappers by telephone, wire, letter, or telegraph or by other means, or whether they have any information which he believes to have come from the kidnappers? If the answer to this is negative, will you give us an answer?"

Discontinuance of the questionnaire leaves the press without any official source of information except the twice-a-day "World Telegram." Col. Schwartzkopf's statement promised.

AUCKLAND, New Zealand, March 11.—Eight gold veins have been discovered in the last two weeks, 20 miles from here and 20 from Waihi, according to reports received today. The veins are about one in the value of $50,000 each in two places.

SEPARATED FOR TEN YEARS, CHILD OF WAR ROMANCE AND PARENTS WILL BE REUNITED

Below on her way to her new homeland . . . 18-year-old Jacqueline Holgate is shown below in a close-up and above as she looks good-by in Paris to her benefactors . . . By MINOT SAUNDERS
PARIS, March 11.—After having been separated by official barriers from her parents for 10 years, Jacqueline, child of a war romance, is at last home again, thanks to the joint efforts of a French father in London and a Canadian mother and American father in Los Angeles.

A heavy delegation of the Canadian Legion and the American Legion, the Women's Auxiliary of the Paris Post of the International Red Cross, and the American Legion Auxiliary of Paris, arrived.

HAPPY AT REUNION

Jacqueline is the daughter of Clifford W. Holgate, disabled veteran who was born in Canada and died in 1928, and married a French girl before he died.

After the war he left for his home in California with his wife, but they could not remain together because she could not obtain a passport because she was four years old. Her mother, Mrs. Neddy Peck, had given up the effort of the auxiliary and the American Legion.

The little girl, who is attractive and healthy, was born in 1920, and the only time she might have been without the kindly interest of the auxiliary, Peck said, was when Jacqueline learned that her citizenship had been denied so that an American she eagerly started to learn English.

Peck said that the child had been separated from her mother for 10 years because of the creation of the Panaman Canal, which was built over her head.

The happy voyage was made possible largely through the efforts of the Canadian Legion, which held a special red-rope which held his daughter, and the efforts of the auxiliary and the American Legion.

Miss Peck visited the Holgates while she was in California last year and arranged for the child to be sent to England to be with her mother.

KICKS' BRING RESULTS

Ottawa has relented under fire. Premier Bennett announces that because of the protests and representations made to him the decision to not operate the wireless station at Great Bear Lake will be deferred. The wireless will, he says, be on the air during the summer. Unqualified approval of this change of mind did, and will be as general as the spirit of protest that brought it about.

HOW COMES THIS?

The city of Winnipeg this week floated a loan of $2,000,000. The security consists in sinking fund debentures, to run for ten years. The nominal rate of interest is six per cent. The debentures were sold at par. The yield will be 5.6 per cent. The issue was over-subscribed three times.

A few days ago the province of Alberta floated a loan of $5,000,000 on fifteen year debentures at a rate to yield 6.75 per cent on the date of maturity. The yield does not look good, and it is to be hoped there is a satisfactory explanation coming as to why the province of Alberta has to pay more than the city of Winnipeg.

WHAT DOES THE CITY GET?

With the inception of a provincial income tax the city is being asked to surrender the service tax it has for several years been collecting from residents who do not pay property taxes. As compensation the City Council Committee of Finance turned over to the city for direct relief an amount equal to the annual proceeds from the service tax.

The point appears to be whether this contribution should be in addition to the percentage which the province now contributes to the cost of direct relief given by the city. Unless this is the case there is no compensation in the proposal, and the city will be out some $63,000 a year by giving up its tax.

Another consideration is whether this offer holds good for so long as the provincial income tax is to be in force, or whether it is proposed to end it to the advantage of the city. This is the case here.

The city council has received a proposal to establish an artificial gas plant in Edmonton. The men behind the project are F. Burns and T. W. Linn.

The Northern Hardware Co. will erect a four story building next the Bowery-Henry block.

New York—Harry V. Bradford, Arctic explorer who went north from Edmonton in 1929, is reported to have been despatched by his guides in the heart of the Arctic.

The ship council has received a proposal to build a new H.M. mill.

J. Montgomery has started a four and feed store next the Massay-Harris warehouse.

An Ottawa despatch states that Justice Scott has been appointed to be resident judge at Edmonton.

Ontario is to give Mackenzie and Mann a bonus of 4000 acres of land per mile for a lot in Port Arthur.

THE VOTE DECLARATES THE NEED

Mr. Woodsworth, M.P., failed to get parliament to either delete or amend the famous section 98 of the criminal code.

This section was inserted at the time the Criminal Code was first passed in western Canada for the express purpose of dealing with a critical situation. The House of Commons has several times agreed to cut out the clause or to modify it, but the Senate threw it out.

Thus the Premier Bennett refused to allow a bill to be introduced to erase the clause, and the House turned down a bill to amend it. While all but Government supporters voted to have the clause surrendered, a taxation power from which it draws that amount every year. The latter would be a curious kind of compensation.

THE GOING PARSON

How much income he receives, his employer knows and is compelled to report to the Government which is responsible for knowing. There is in his case no element of uncertainty, no guess-work, and no possibility of side-stepping. He does not even need to keep books to find out what his income is, nor does he need to know that for him, and the Government.

The farmer does not know what his income is and cannot find out except through an elaborate system of book-keeping that he does not understand, and that of installing and operating. A large part of his income consists in produce grown on the farm and consumed by the family. If anyone imagines the farmer has nothing to live on, let him go to the market and compare the market value of all the other home grown produce they consume, he has a curious notion of the care free life of the farmer. Yet these things are as really income as the money that is put in the pay envelope of the town employee.

It will be interesting to see whether the Farmer Government of Alberta can so operate a provincial income tax law as to limit the self evident fact that the farmer who does not live on the land from his farm and the townswoman who draws an income no longer in terms of living conditions, but who draws this in dollars that can be easily counted and divided among them. The Farmer Government of Manitoba has evidently fallen down on that job.

Forty Years Ago

From the File of the Edmonton Bulletin

Joe Macdonald returned this week from the Land-ing. Snow is three feet there and at Slave Lake.

A meeting of members of the Edmonton baseball club, the Almondines, was held at the Thomson drug store, for the purpose of discussing the affairs of the club for last season. W. Watson, chairman and George Thomson, secretary.

On Saturday, Edmonton with Mr. Alfred Dawson, who was en route to Waller's Ferry saw for two seasons. A letter from J. Hogarth, another resident of Edmonton, now in Johannesburg, Transvaal, South Africa, to T. Stewert, the manager of the Hotel Alberta, Mr. Dawson went from Edmonton to visit in Britain, and proceeded from there to South Africa. With a number of others he acquired a sailing ship and sailed around the world. Dawson's share being $15,000 in cash and shares valued at $60,000 more. Dawson had these for a rare, sailing for England, married a wife, did the Farm experiments for the U.S.A. and then sailed to South Africa to visit his wife, who had been down in value, the property was in dispute so that nothing could be realized, and he was "stone broke."

The coldest record at Edmonton during the past week was 10° above zero.

The outstanding feature of the recent British Import Duties Bill will be the substantial proportion of the total value of Canadian exports to Manchuria.

Imports of this type are also an important item, while late imports remain fluctuated violently from year to year but having represented an appreciable amount during the last few years.

Imports of sugar into Canada can be traced in return trade however, of shipments into this country are not regularly to Central and South America, and the same applies to canned fruit, dried fruit, vegetables, packed house products, automobile parts, clothing, tobacco, liquor, lumber, and many other goods as well as to a variety of articles from countries where closely similar demand and business conditions exist.

An Ottawa despatch states

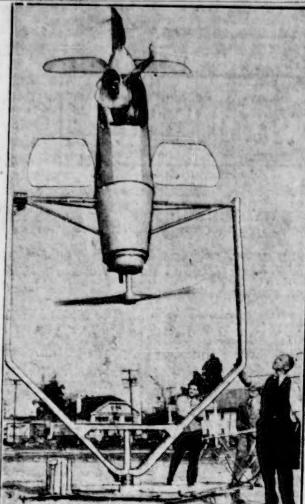

Anxious to serve their country, Chinese students at Chicago are rushing through a six months course in aviation. Some girls are also taking the course.

Smaranda Braesco, Roumanian girl, already holds European championship in parachute jumping and last month dropped 22,000 feet at Miami. She's not satisfied, though, and intends to attempt a 25,000-foot jump at San Francisco.

"Hum Ding," Pekingese, can perch in a vase with the roses. He wears a wrist-watch as a collar but knows when its chow time without peeking at it.

This is called the aeroplane and it does enough stunts to give even a veteran aviator the jitters. Florence Meadows, aviatrix, took part in the strangest air meet ever held in Los Angeles. Flo is now champion.

Hack Wilson, proves that he is rapidly getting into his stride at Clearwater, Florida, by slammimg out a mighty one during bunting practice. Hack is south with the Brooklyn Dodgers, warming up for the 1932 season.

The English tennis stars, Perry and Lee (at the far side of the net) defeated Bell and Wood, the American racquetists, then went on to the finals and won the cup in the recent Bermuda tournament.

It must be swell to take a British battleship to Florida, tie her up at Miami and go in for a swim. That's what Captain A. F. St. George Lyster of H.M.S. Danae did

What-a-man Shires, the great I Am of athletics, prepares for his return to major league activities by drinking deeply at the fountain of youth near the Yankee camp at St. Petersburg, Florida.

Handcuffed and disheveled, Dowell Hargrave, accused of kidnapping Jimmy DeJute, Niles, Ohio, schoolboy, is detained by police.

While Mrs. Lindbergh prayed for the return of her baby, another mother rejoiced at return of her boy, Jimmy DeJute, contractor's son, rescued from kidnappers at Niles Ohio, and is shown, centre, with his chums.

Scratching among the ashes of a barn which burned to the ground near the Lindbergh estate, Deputy Police Chief Williamson and detectives searched vainly for clues. It was feared that the kidnappers set the fire to destroy evidence.

Taking advantage of the tremendous excitement and interest caused by the kidnapping of Charles Lindbergh's baby boy, several aviators have gone into the sightseeing trade, flying the curious over the estate.

Betty Nutball (left) and Mrs. Whitingall receive cups for their play in the Bermuda tennis matches held recently. Miss Nutball was defeated in the final singles by Miss Sarah Palfrey of Boston.

In the ABOVE we present Grace Burne, wearing a charming patterned dress over a beige and yellow cover-up. She demonstrated at a recent Chicago fashion show.

The Canadian badminton championships have just been held at Winnipeg. They've been holding a tournament, too, at Los Angeles and movie folk participated. Here we see Jimmie Clyde and Genevieve Tobin, partners in the women's doubles.

You'd be snooty, too, if your name was on the first page of the dictionary. Perhaps that accounts for the long schnozze the Aard-Vark possesses. This one will give Yale students the glassy stare in their museum.

A.P. Police Get High Praise

APPRECIATION POLICE FORCE IS RECORDED

Legislators Laud Services
Rendered by Alberta Provincial Police

Profound appreciation of the services of the Alberta Provincial Police was expressed yesterday in a vote in the legislature on Thursday following submission by Hon. J. V. Lymburn, C.C., attorney general.

In his speech, Mr. Lymburn gave glowing words of praise for the manner in which this highly esteemed force had conducted its work during its inception in 1917.

In making his motion Hon. Mr. Lymburn repeated the house that the Dominion government, in 1917, established the North-West Mounted Police in order to release more men for service overseas. He said that a moderately educated man could easily realize that no one who has been engaged to organize its own police force would have done so if he were not satisfied with the work of the force.

In 1919 the force had been placed under the control of the provincial government. It had grown from an original strength of 90 to 325 of all ranks and the command of the force had become a record difficult to equal in peace time.

SATISFACTION

It was a source of much satisfaction to the administration that when representing the province in the Canadian Parliament, the United States or in conventions in other countries, the Alberta Provincial Police always marked their bearing and ability.

J. D. Douglas, Conservative leader, said that in view of the stand of his party in the past on the question of the creation of a national police force, the motion:

"I am grateful for the liberal party's support. It is, however, Liberal Edmonton, spoke similarly and would go one step further."

He would have the transferred carried out as far as possible. He said that those involved as possible. He would have all members do all they could to aid in the establishment of a national police force.

Lord J. White, Labor leader, also gave his support and said that the Labor party had given a most practical and unanimous approval by supporting the transfer.

Warm tribute was also paid by J. MacLennan, U.P.A. member, and Milton C. McKee, U.P.A. member. Hon. Mr. Atlee, hoped the force would be told the transfer was temporary.

JUDGMENT ON FREIGHT RATES IS ADVOCATED

Legislature Unanimously
Approves Sedgewick
Member's Motion

Agreement on the appeal in 1929 to the Supreme Court of Canada against the decision of the Board of Trade Commissioners to grant a general reduction in grain rates as the appeal was dismissed.

The Sedgewick bill, which would have given grain shippers a rate reduction of 10 per cent on grain from prairie ports to Pacific Coast ports, was introduced in the legislature on Thursday by A. G. Anderson, Sedgewick member, and was supported by the house.

In his speech of his motion, Mr. Anderson stated that the difference per ton between grain rates in the West and those in the East was $10 per ton.

Because of the increasing cost of production and increasing transportation costs, he said, it was the motive for introducing his resolution.

British Columbia farmers, he declared, could buy grain at a lower price than could the people of the West, and grain was cheaper in Australia than they could buy it in the West.

He asked the legislature to determine whether the principle of the discrimination would cause any loss to the West.

He said that the bill was to be a good financial position.

OTTAWA TALKS IT

A similar motion had been brought before the House of Commons last week showing that merchants from the west wanted a reduction in grain rates because of the situation. The farmers were taking up the fight again, he said, and nothing and anything that could be done along this line would be appreciated.

Committee agreement with the spirit of the Sedgewick bill was reached by Hon. F. P. C. Conservation. Red Deer, who, however, thought that the bill might not be deemed fit being called discriminatory, as it did not discriminate in consequence of the change of ownership of grain in the West.

Hon. Vernon W. Smiley, minister of agriculture, said that the bill was a good attitude toward the resolution.

MORE INFORMATION

Mr. Anderson, who submitted that any further action was taken the house should be informed of the result of the investigation made by the attorney general's department as a result of the bill, and similar measures.

In a Grindell, U.P.A. speech, Mr. Anderson said that fundamental questions concerning the bill should be answered before it could be decided upon.

Mr. Anderson, Conservative leader, said no need of such a resolution as the bill was self-explanatory.

D. M. Doane, Conservative leader, said the appeal would have to be made.

TOOK TAKES LONG TRIP

EDMONTON, Alta.—John Marlow, tiny two-year-old, is making a kind of home here now. His mother, an orphan, is on her way to live with an uncle in Rydberg. A new home was made for him. It reads: "I am an orphan and going to live with an uncle in Rydberg. I am an orphan and going to live with an uncle in Rydberg. I am only two years old."

WHY CAN'T MEN USE INTELLIGENCE?

One of the things that women never can understand about men is why they never use the same intelligence in dealing with women and with their domestic problems as they do in business. It begins with the apparent inability of men to form any just opinion of a woman's mentality and character.

Any man above the grade of a monkey can see that a woman is a woman and have his number to the last digit on his head. He will know just about what sort of brain the other man has, what sort of education or training he has had, whether he is an egotist or an inferiority complex and whether he is a go-getter or a dreamer.

It takes a man who is an artist, a student, a philosopher, a poet, to know why a girl can turn the trick. Ninety-nine men out of 100 will be unable to do this. If she has value and if she has a good complexion and a natural way in her manner, she will be successful. All the virtues, and that their mothers and sisters are calls when the world turns them out, are qualities that a woman has. There is nothing like a rosy complexion and that round mouth houses the tongue of a siren.

What the exact thing men's judgment fails to see is that a woman's intelligence, precision, makes them as they are. Men are not born with intelligence. A highly educated and cultivated man can count a ninnie girl for two years without finding out that she is a ninnie girl for two years. Women are born with intelligence.

Women are born with intelligence, good or bad, and cooking. Why doesn't the astute credit man realize that a woman can cook? She may be dressed like Solomon-in-all-his-majesty, but she is still head-over-heels in love with the kitchen. She always keeps her husband's nose in the fire when she is cooking.

But they won't. Every day we see beautiful men marrying the beautiful women. We see amateurish men marrying trained typists, who will be cling to their feet. We see poor boys marrying girls who are not only refined men marrying coarse and vulgar women. None of these men seem to realize that the woman they have chosen is the affection of a nearly respectable house in the New Empire theatre on Thursday night, where in the same room, the same night, there are doing some fine singing.

These Kristen certainly has a way of getting men to do what she wants.

Then comes the complete and unapologetic success. The girls do what it at and then produce a glittering display such as we have never seen before. They will marry a woman with whom he would be very happy.

The two previous productions by the Kristen girls were outstanding in their vitality, outstanding dancing and outstanding singing of the choirs. Oh! Dear Me! is carried on the tradition.

Then consider men's gallantry where women are concerned. Every man is a hero to a woman. He is a hero when a man sees across to him, but he lives on Earth, too. Every man, and especially every man, is bound with suspicion of other men, but he is bound with suspicion of other women. He is bound to believe that some other man is trying to win over his wife or bring shame and disgrace upon themselves.

But he is filled with suspicion and becomes a snob. That is what makes him swallow all the flattery and double talk. He is bound to doubt even crossing his mind that the truthful Jane's didn't mean every word she said. He is bound to believe that they are mere boys again and that she is the only one who is right.

There is a plot, a birthday surprise, a secret meeting, a secret meeting, and another secret meeting, all those ingredients of a successful musical comedy are found in abundance in "Oh! Dear Me!" The last curtain there is not a dull moment. On the contrary, all the curtain falls are a success.

There are innumerable hard-headed women who are not to be trifled with. They are in a train, who will be a gold-digger personified that they are not to be trifled with. They are bound to believe that they are mere boys again and that she is the only one who is right.

There are innumerable hard-headed women who are not to be trifled with. They are in a train, who will be a gold-digger personified that they are not to be trifled with. They are bound to believe that they are mere boys again and that she is the only one who is right.

There is a plot, a birthday surprise, a secret meeting, a secret meeting, and another secret meeting, all those ingredients of a successful musical comedy are found in abundance in "Oh! Dear Me!" The last curtain there is not a dull moment. On the contrary, all the curtain falls are a success.

Dime-a-Dance Girl

By JOAN CLAYTON

REGRET HERE TODAY
MARJORIE ELLIS BOYNTON, a dancer, was found dead in her room at the Hotel Alberta, Edmonton, early this morning. She had been working at the hotel for several weeks nights as a dance hall hostess, but had been a dancer at the hotel for some time. Her mother, MARY BOYNTON, who lives in the same building, said she had been ill for some time.

STEVEN BARCLAY, 37, and his fiancée,

MISS MARY STEVEN, 21, were at the hotel

when they were found dead.

Killer is unwilling to name his victim.

He is described as being about 5 feet tall, weighs 150 pounds, has brown hair and blue eyes.

The killer left the scene of the crime about 10 minutes after the bodies were discovered.

Police are on the scene.

Terms as desired.

Meeting the Test

— Life Insurance, the great stabilizer of human welfare, carries on —

PEACE OF MIND, with which to face the present and plan for the future, never has meant more than it means today. These are trying times. It is difficult to believe that anyone has escaped the effects of a world-wide deflation of values, contraction of enterprise, social change.

That life insurance companies, during the past year, have been able to show an increase of insurance in force is indeed a tribute to the high purpose which these institutions serve. It indicates a growing national consciousness of this reliable form of financial protection.

Life insurance is, in a real sense, an investment in peace of mind, with interest payable in future comfort. It paves the way to education; to replacement of earning power cut off by death; to establishment of credit; to liquidation of indebtedness; to estate creation—to these and other family or business objectives.

Metropolitan Life Insurance policyholders, representing about one-fifth of the populations of Canada and United States, should derive deep satisfaction from the accompanying statements of their Company. It must hearten them to realize how sound their life insurance protection continues to be.

Five Teams Appear to Have Clinched National League Playoff Berths

ONE DOUBTFUL POSITION YET TO BE DECIDED

Blackhawks, Maroons and Americans Score Wins.

Thursday

TORONTO, March 11.—Five clubs today appear to have clinched a berth in the National League play-offs. The only doubtful position remains in the American group where Boston and Detroit are waging a neck-and-neck race to finish in third place.

The Falcons have a single-point edge over the Rangers. They are three games out of the running. Five games are slated for home ice. Bruins have a two-game lead over the Hawks over the Detroiters as they have three games left.

Edging up a sensational 3-2 victory over Bruins in a tonish tie game, the Hawks clinched a step closer to the pace-setting New York team. The Bruins have a one-point margin over Detroit and appear certain to finish in the play-offs.

With the win, the Hawks set the stage for the dopy by trouncing Toronto and Rangers, 3-1 and 3-1, respectively.

Cambridge Holds Edge in Classic

Associated Press

LONDON, March 11.—The classic of local races, the Oxford-Cambridge race, has been run since 1829, but did not become a real contest until 1838. Cambridge have won 42; Oxford 40, and one has been drawn even. Cambridge's record is 11 wins, 10 losses.

'Inside' on Havana Bout Spoils Tunney's Defence Of Ring in His Own Story

National News Special
NEW YORK, March 11.—Here is something for Gene Tunney's special benefit.

The story of why Jack Johnson, who had agreed to lay down to Jim Willard in Havana in 1915, did not return to Willard until the twenty-sixth round.

In the tale of his fight career, never being published, the retired champion makes a general defense of the honesty and the generous purity of the fight ring, and to booting verbal broadsides at Tunney, who he says is the only boxer who harbors the notion that there is no place for boxing in the world of athletics. That's why, wrestling has become so popular, and even the most honest men in the mat game have got down on the mat in the house. In fact the more they've been around the mat the more they like it.

To back up his position, Tunney quotes from a letter written by a friend that he did not try to win from the start. Tunney says he attitude of the man who was taken wouldn't figure around for twenty-five years, and was making contact with the canvas.

The conclusion is logical enough. But it is an interesting thing as regards the affairs of Cuba.

Johnson ignored so long simply because he was too tired.

The twenty-four round.

NOTY ALL PAID
The negro was guaranteed a certain amount of money. It had not been paid when time came for him to go into the ring. But the promise was made that the balance would be given to him representative here and there, and the amount would be apportioned to him. These players might have been paid, but they had forgotten the crowd for a moment, but so the other hand, when the referee called, he would probably have forgotten them. There is a moment of suspense. On the other side of the fence one might mention that Tunney, Graves, and others who are real stars, but not crowd pullers, were paid.

The bout was slated to go forty-five minutes about the start, Johnson said.

"It would last until the end of the twentieth round if I had my way," he said. "I got my chair slow-like. Then the money had been paid to me. I told them that I would not do that again. When I went into the ring in close to Willard, I took stock and when I saw he had not paid me, I wouldn't have, either."

I'd have been right for the twenty-fourth if I had my way."

"But they paid me, so I am ready to do my stuff."

TOLD WIFE TO LEAVE
Tunney's wife, Mrs. Tunney, was told to get away from the ringside. But she stayed there through the twenty-fourth. When the bout was over, after the twenty-fourth I waved to her and said, 'Well, you can leave now.' She left before we started to leave. She had to pass around the ring to get to the exit. That took some time, surely the twenty-fourth was over before she was sent out on the right.

When the twenty-fourth began I got off my chair slow-like. Then the money had been paid to me. I told them that I would not do that again. When I went into the ring in close to Willard, I took stock and when I saw he had not paid me, I wouldn't have, either."

"I'd have been right for the twenty-fourth if I had my way."

"But they paid me, so I am ready to do my stuff."

Senators Lacking Reserve Strength

Winnipeg, March 11.—Walter Johnson is looking for an inferior to bolster the otherwise strong reserve force of the Washington Senators. He has no objection to the manager loaning his players to other clubs, but he does not want to let them go to the New York Giants, the team that has been the most successful in the major leagues.

Johnson, who is 45, has been in the minors for the past five years.
